Non-Monetary Relief (Against All Respondents R1–R22)

- 1) The immediate return or replacement of Affiant's travel documents,
- 2) The Affiant demands the immediate removal of any and all restrictions, limitations, or encumbrances imposed upon his unalienable rights.
- 3) A written apology acknowledging liability and wrongdoing,
- 4) Expungement of false criminal records, restoration of estate and legal files.
- 5) Court injunctions against further persecution, defamation or retaliation.
- 6) Independent oversight mechanisms and compliance monitoring.

Summary

The Affiant's statement describes decades of coordinated abuse, trafficking, fraud, and persecution primarily instigated by Angeline Moyo (R1), later compounded by misconduct from multiple state institutions and other respondents.

From childhood, R1 allegedly subjected him to severe physical and sexual violence (including an assault by her agent), ritual practices involving his blood, humiliation, and the breaking of his arm, while also neglecting and abusing his terminally ill father and then exploiting guardianship after his death in 1996 to seize control of the Affiant's inheritance and coerce his half-sister into surrendering hers.

The Affiant further states that R1 used his estate to fund her own education and relocation to England, refused to support his scholarship in Florida, diverted profits, forged documents, and arranged his trafficking to England, where she abandoned him, repeatedly slandered him to authorities, and allegedly orchestrated further assaults and public humiliations, including a near-fatal attack in 2008 and being paraded bleeding through Slough High Street in a hospital gown.

As matters escalated, he alleges systemic persecution by the Home Office, police forces, prisons, prosecutors, courts, and NHS bodies through unlawful arrests, aggravated kidnapping, torture, racial abuse, sexual assaults in custody, medical negligence, exposure to mycotoxins, defamation, and persistent obstruction of justice, leaving him traumatised, deprived of his estate and opportunities, and fearful that the present environment is unsafe for starting or raising a family

Declaration

I, 'cyrus', of the bloodline "coxswain", the Affiant, hereby certify upon my unlimited commercial liability and under penalty of perjury, that I have read all of the contents of pages 1-20 of this Affidavit and to the best of my knowledge, I believe that the facts expressed herein are true, correct and complete.
